

If you needed effective property services during probate here tomorrow

you'd call: 0203 859 9588

At Fortis Property Services, we understand that the responsibility to protect a client's estate during probate is paramount. Effective security solutions paired with scheduled inspections and essential maintenance help preserve the property value, reduce risk, and demonstrate the highest level of professional duty of care. We ensure probate estates are secure, monitored and maintained until transfer or sale. Our tailored approach provides executors and solicitors with confidence that every asset is safeguarded with discretion and professionalism.

Probate properties require diligent care and security to protect their value and integrity. Without regular inspections, estates face risks such as vandalism, illegal occupation, or unnoticed damage that can significantly devalue an asset.

We provide a professional and sensitive approach, offering documented inspections, essential maintenance, security checks, alarms, and tenant liaison for occupied properties to ensure property in probate remains safeguarded. Our experienced team works discreetly and efficiently, giving executors and families peace of mind throughout the probate process.

Simply contact us today to discuss your requirements.

We'll be there when you need us.
